BILLY THE GREEN CHILE

Hanging on his pepper plant, ripening in the sun, Billy dreamed of when his day would come. The day that he would become something great. The day he'd reach an immortal state. He was envious of what others had done and where they had been, which may explain the color of his skin. Billy wanted people to travel to see him no matter the miles. He wanted to make those people happy with big glowing smiles. Billy accomplished his goal by looking no further, when he became part of Chile Verde's green chile cheeseburger.
